First Lady Is Big Hit In Canada

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) - A First Lady only four months, 31-yearold Jacqueline Kennedy scored a major triumph here on her first state visit abroad.

Flying back to Washington today, she had the acclaim of top Canadian officials and the man in the street. She had been applauded in parliament and by thousands of others.

And, if Canada was a it was predicted Mrs. Kennedy's appeal during a visit to Paris late this month may be even greater.

She "has conquered all of our hearts," was the way the speaker of Canada's senate, Mark Drouin summed it up.

And Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker told Parliament people in the streets of Ottawa had greeted Mrs. Kennedy with "a special glow of warmth."

The President and Mrs. Kennedy wound up the major program of their two-day visit to Ottawa at a party they gave Wednesday might in honor of their official hosts in the picturesque setting of the U.S. Embassy overlooking the

New York Central Petition Rapped

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)-The Interstate Commerce Commission has been asked to deny a petition by the New York Central Railroad for inclusion in the proposed merger of the Norfolk and Western and Nickel Plate Railways.

The N&W and Nickel Plate, in a formal joint reply filed with the CC Wednesday, also asked denial of the New York Central's petition for consolidation of the N&W-Nickel Plate proceedings with dockets covering the NYC-Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

They called the request for conolidated dockets "another step in the Central's efforts to delay or destroy any mergers in the east which do not embrace that rail-

30-Man Military Junta Now Rules Far East Country

SEOUL, Korea (AP)-Premier John M. Chang and his Cabinet resigned today and the military emerged triumphant in a revolt they said would put new life into South Korea's battle against corruption, poverty and communism.

The 61-year-old elected premier's bow-out gave a stamp of legality to the coup led by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, 38, army chief of staff.

Leaders of the revolution immediately named a 30-man committee of military figures to run the country. It was headed by Gen. Chang with Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, considered the mastermind of the uprising, as No. 2 man. Chiefs of all the other armed forces were included.

Lt. Gen. Kim Chong-oh, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was listed as the third-ranking official of the new regime, followed by Lt. Gen. Park Limhang, who earlier was reported to have replaced Lt. Gen. Lee Hanlim as commander of the powerful 1st Field Army.

The replacement of Lee was not officially confirmed, but wellplaced military sources said he had been ousted because he did not back the coup from the start. Lee, commanding on the critica armistice border with North Korea, at first took a neutral stand toward the coup and only came

Suborbit Shot

Glenn or Grissom Tagged To Duplicate Shepard's Pioneering

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla (AP) -The United States will attempt to orbit an unmanned Project Mercury space capsule about June 12 and to hurl a second astronaut on a brief suborbital flight on June 20, it was learned reliably today.

The orbital mission, in which the instrumented capsule is to swing once around the globe and parachute back to earth, will be a key test in this nation's plan to orbit a man before the end of the year, a feat accomplished last month by Yuri A. Gagarin of the Soviet Union. The initial attempt to orbit an unmanned capsule failed on April 25 when the Atlas booster veered off course and was destroyed. A rocket escape system pulled the capsule free and it parachuted safely into the Atlantic off Cape

Sources said the date of the orbit try is uncertain but that it will be about June 12.

They reported June 20 is firm for the manned suborbital ride in which a Redstone rocket will boost an astronaut on a flight similar to that made by Alan B. Shepard Jr. on May 5.

The pilot will control the capsule manually over different parts of the trajectory and will perform tasks not assigned to Shephard. Either John H. Glenn Jr. or Virgil I. Grissom will ge the pilot. They and Shepard were picked as a three-man team to train for the first two Redstone flights.

500 Bulldozers Asked For 1,000 Invaders

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)-Prime Minister Fidel Castro has offered to trade more than 1,000 prisoners of the April 17 invasion for 500 American bulldozers.

The startling swords-for-plowshares offer Wednesday night evoked wild cheers from several thousand peasants assembled at the rancho boyeros agricultural fair near Havana. If the prisoners are not ran-somed, Castro said, "they will work hard, building trenches and fortifications, so that they will have to earn the bread they eat." Referring to President Kennedy

-whom the Cubans have charged with direct responsibility for the invasion—Castro said: "If they are his friends and he loves them so much, let him send 500 bulldozers and we will send them back." He added that captives charged with committing crimes during the Fulgencio Batista regime would not be returned under any circumstances.

Earlier, Castro told his audience that "agricultural production must be increased at all costs.' Dwelling at length on Cuba's shortage of pork and pork products, he said, "Every pig that we have must be preserved and fat-

Late Solon's Son-in-Law Ruled Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)-A federal district court jury Wednesday found Claude A. Taylor, former superintendent of the House folding room, guilty of 52 counts of making fraudulent government payroll claims totaling $14,003.

Taylor, a son-in-law of the late Rep. James G. Polk, D - Ohio, served in the post from 1955 to Judge George L. Hart permitted Taylor to remain free under $2,500 bond until sentencing after ne learned that Taylor's 15-monthold daughter is ill.

Taylor was accused of submitting payroll vouchers for four fictitious employes between 1955 and 1957. The Justice Department charged that Taylor personally received the paychecks and asked name Charlene Ann for their daughanother employe to cash them.

He faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10, 000 fine on each count.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Frederick G. Smithson presented witnesses and documents that he said proved the four payees were nonexistent. Smithson told the jury the evidence against Taylor was "overwhelmingly irrefutable."

Taylor's attorney said he will appeal the verdict.

Taylor, who received $8,000 a year as superintendent of the folding room, now is employed in public relations. He ran unsuccessfully last year for the Democratic nomination for the House in Mary land's 6th District.

Scioto Basin Flood Control Study Starts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-Colum bus city officials will meet with Army engineers soon to discuss possible flood control-water supply dams for the Scioto River basin.

It was reported that the engineers soon may recommend seven flood control dams for the basin. two of which would give flood protection and increase water supplies to Columbus.

D. T. Williams, engineer corps project engineer for the Scioto River basin study, listed these possible dam sites:

Alum Creek - Sites under consideration include north of Westerville, near Africa Road in Delaware County or a mile north of Millcreek-near Ostrander, three miles west of the Scioto River in Union County; Big Darby Creekin southwest Franklin County, 29 upstream from Rocky Fork;

Deer Creek — 22 miles upstream from the Scioto River in Pickaway County; Salt Creek-Fifteen miles north of Scioto River in Ross County; Rocky Fork Lake-engineers propose raising the High-

Community College Bill Gets New Life

"There is nothing in this bill to help the injured worker."

Dealing with disability benefits for injured workers and eligibility of their survivors for death benefits, the bill provides among other things that:

The time allowed for filing an occupational disease claim shall be six months (a reduction from the present two-year limit.)

Claims that death occurred later as a result of the injury may be ruled valid if the claimant received temporary total compensation for a year prior to death or if it occurs within four years (medical testimony is the present

Payment is stopped while an employer's appeal is in progress. Mental health damage as the result of injury is not considered a basis for compensation.

Claimants would be required to submit to examinations by company doctors.

the House earlier. These would: End the requirement that an appointed county commissioner beas his predecessor.

Allow a polling place to be lo cated in an adjoining precinct.

Require county auditors to keep a separate record of all steps concerned with sale of land sold for delinquent taxes or assessments.

The House considered six bill and defatd two. One of thos beaten would have permitted tavern proprietors to use the statement of a minor that he was old enough to be served as defense evidence in a case of illegal sale failed by one vote to get the required 70 yeas, and it's considered likely that sponsors will get a lawmaker who voted against it May 4, 11, 18. to move for reconsideration.

The bill bypassed by the Senate was similar, and the Senate took postponement action after learning of the House vote. The Senate's surprise decision on the community college bill followed lengthy caucuses by both parties. The decision came over the objections of Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen, whose Education Committee ditched the bill in March. Pepple then had introduced the two substitute measures which were on Wednesday's calendar. The original bill closely followed conclusions of a two-year study by an Interim Commission on Education Beyond the High School. As approved Wednesday, it would allow citizens of an area composed of one or more adjoining counties -minimum population 50,000-to establish community colleges offering academic or technical courses.

Financing would be divided among the community (tax levy), state (operating funds) and students (fees). A board appointed by the governor would have to approve local arrangements, but the contract to conduct the two-year training program could be with a private, state or municipal uni-

Instrumentation paved the way for man's entry and it will continue to provide the backbone of future advancements. It has, however, progressed about as far as it can without the guiding hand of an on-the-spot human being.

But, as Dr. S. F. Singer of the University of Maryland informed the American Association for the Advancement of Science the other day, man is the only "non-linear, 150-pound servomechanical system which can be mass-produced by unskilled labor."

What this uncomplimentary description really means is that man is indispensable to further investigation of the universe. His role will be limited, however, to attempts to correct mechanical difficulties and performing maintenance tasks on the multitude of machines which will ultimately surround the planet.

Subservience to machinery is not really such a new idea to explorers. Columbus probably never would have found his way over here if he had not placed his fate in a compass and a sextant, buttressed by a lot of imagination.

As a whole Americans are making more money, spending about as much, taking on new debts but at a cautious pace, paying off old ones better, facing rising costs in some areas of the family budget but getting a breather at least in othrs, and finding tax rates on average a bit higher this year than last with chances of relief dim at best.

Employment is inching higher. The Labor Department estimates nearly 66 million are working, while almost five millon who want jobs can't find them.

About two million workers will get pay increases this year under previous contracts, and several

Man with Perfect Lawn Takes Advice of Experts

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES Many a motorist will slow his car down at the sight of a bright colorful garden.

But the Marvin Steelys, Route 4. Circleville, have motorists cranning their necks because they have a lawn of velvet smoothness.

When the garden editor stopped by to ask Marvin Steely his technique for lawn making, Mrs. Steely laughed. The garden editor was about the umpteenth person who has whirled in the Steely driveway to ask the same question.

The Steely lawn is unembellished with flowering plants. It is the velvet perfection of the turf that catches the eye of the passerby and causes him to stop and ask questions.

MARVIN Steely makes it sound simple. He says he faithfully follows the advice of the experts.

And if a certain lawn seed company in Marysville does not feel its ears burning I do not know why. Steely says he follows their lawn making procedure. He uses the seed, the fertilizer, the weed killers and even the equipment suggested by the firm.

Steely moved into this quaint salt-box type house from his big farm home almost 14 years ago. It tok about two years to get the lawn under control and since then it's all been smooth sailing.

Now, Steely fertilizes the lawn three times yearly. He uses the pre · emergence control for crabgrass. He cuts his lawn regularly whenever it is necessary, taking care that it never gets too long. He sets the mower between two and three inches. He spot sprays for weeds like dandelion.

Mrs. Steely remembered how weedy the lawn was when they first moved there. Plantain, dock, dandelion, everything was growing in the front yard except grass.

First of all the Steelys eradicated the weeds with a weed killer.

SOMEBODY warned them, "You'll ruin your lawn with all that weed killing stuff."

Mrs. Steely recalls that she answered "What lawn"? wered "What lawn"?
The dead weeds made large bare Prune Lilacs spots. Steely reseeded these spots and in a very few months he had and in a very few months he had a good stand of grass. Since then After Bloom he has found it unnecessary to do much reseeding. When he kills a weed the grass just fills the space show this year in Pickaway Counautomatically.

THE MAN WITH PERFECT LAWN - Marvin Steeley richly deserves this title. He lives on Route 56 (East) where weed seeds are abundant and water so scarce he never waters his lawn. William Strawser, E. Mound St., has tulips that are causing something of a flurry among people who have seen them.

Tulips have taken a real beating between the winds and rains this last week. Earlier the snow and frost flattened them out. In spite of this many people are reporting beautiful tulips.

In fact you can say it was the condition of the tulips after Monday's storm that made the Pickaway Garden Club postpone its annual spring flower show.

PERSONALLY, I was tickled the show had been postponed. It was not a matter of flowers. The truth of the matter is I can't locate my box of needle point holders that I had stored for the winter.

Protestant Unity Plan Clears First Hurdle

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)-Signs were apparent today that the United Presbyterian Church will give the go-ahead to a broad, longrange plan aimed at uniting much of American Protestantism.

The first indirect test on the reunion proposal came Wednesday when McKelvev was elected. His nearest contender was backed by a delegate who implied oppositotal strength of 875,000 men, in-

The proposal, which isn't expected to come to a vote until next Monday, asks that the Presbyterians invite the Episcopal Church to join with it in merger talks with Methodists and the United Church of Christ.

He's traveling abroad, meeting with the heads of foreign governments, giving them the word from Kennedy, and then coming home to report to the President.

These goodwill missions may have some psychological benefit in boosting the ego and self-confidence of people in smaller countries by showing the United States is sufficiently concerned about them to send the No. 2 man over.

But any practical effect from either the Johnson or Nixon jour neys - with one notable exception in Nixon's case - is hard

The mistreatment heaped on Nixon in South America shocked the United States into painful realization that not all Latin Americans loved us and that this country was going to have to go some to keep them on the side of the United States.

Now is it clear why anything Nixon or Johnson may have had to say to the head of a foreign government couldn't have been said just as well by the local American ambassader who could have delivered a message from Kennedy too.

The policy toward every other country is made here in Washing-- not on the scene by a visitor, even one as important as Johnson - on information from the American ambassador there his aide, other advisers, and the

If Kennedy has really said anything new, it hasn't been made public. For instance, it seems generally accepted the United States, no matter what happens, will not send U.S. forces directly into Laos. That country, already more than half lost to Communism. probably will be swallowed up by it eventually, even though Laos is the key to other Southeast Asian nations which are either neutral > or tied to the United States. But the next critical area is South Viet Nam, which has received both military and economic aid from this country. Commu nist guerillas are tormenting the government there. These guerilla pushes appear to be only preliminaries, a feelingout foray before larger pressure is applied. If South Viet Nam goes, then all Southeast Asia is truly in danger.

The other countries there, so close to mammoth Red China.

intervene directly in South Viet Nam in the event the situation there gets critical.

So - the question was: Will Johnson tell President Ngo Dinh Diem not to worry, that the Unit ed States will jump in with army and air force if they're needed?

A communique was issued after Johnson's visit. It spoke of more American economic and military help but so far it has not been reported this country promised direct intervention. There were reports that Johnson, when he got to Thailand promised U.S. troops might be sent there. Thailand is linked with the United States in a defense treaty and is Laos' next door neighbor.

But Wednesday Johnson, while promising more help to Thailand, brushed aside speculation on American troops being sent Johnson will tell Kennedy what he saw and what he thinks when he gets back.

But this probably won't add anything to what Kennedy already knows from the American can hardly be expected to stand ambassadors in Southeast Asia.
